Introduction

This DIY Escape Room Module has been developed within the framework of the Inclusive Pathways to Peace (IPP) project, co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union. It serves as a practical complement to the Methodological Guide, together forming a complete toolkit for implementing educational escape rooms in youth work and non-formal education contexts. "Inclusive pathways to peace, 2024-2-HR01-KA220-YOU-000279458" is an Erasmus+ Cooperation Partnership in the field of youth, coordinated by Association Studio B (Croatia) with partners from Serbia (Udruženje Svetlost), Spain (ASOCIACIÓN JUVENIL ERASMIAU), and Cyprus (NEOLEA GIA ANTALAGI KAI KATANOISI– Youth for Exchange and Understanding). The project aims to promote peace, tolerance, and inclusion by developing innovative educational tools for youth and youth practitioners. Through participatory action research and creative game-based learning methods, partners are co-creating open educational resources — including interactive escape rooms enhanced with 360° and augmented reality elements — that support young people in building empathy, communication, and conflict resolution skills. By combining non-formal education and digital innovation, the project seeks to strengthen the quality of youth work and contribute to more cohesive, democratic, and peaceful communities across Europe.

While the Methodological Guide provides theoretical foundations, methodological principles, and detailed instructions for setting up and facilitating the activity, this DIY Module contains all the necessary elements to be printed, assembled, and used during implementation. These include puzzles, clues, visual elements, and other components designed to support experiential learning on the topics of peace, inclusion, and conflict resolution.

Used together, the Methodological Guide and the DIY Escape Room Module enable youth practitioners to create immersive, participatory, and educational experiences that foster collaboration, empathy, and critical thinking among young people.

How to use this module:

All elements in this module are marked with the letter "E" followed by a number (e.g., E1, E2, E3...). This numbering corresponds to the instructions provided in Chapter 1.5 How to Set Up the Room of the Methodological Guide and will help you correctly position each element within the escape room.

Please follow these guidelines when preparing the materials:

- → Printing: Print all elements one-sided, using print settings set to "Fit to Page", unless otherwise specified in the notes accompanying each element number.

- → Cutting and preparation: Each page includes a header and footer containing the element number and project information. These sections should be cut off before use. Players should only see the element itself — not the numbering or any technical markings.

- → Additional instructions: Next to some element numbers, you may find specific preparation notes such as "cut on marked lines," "print on vellum paper," or "fold in three parts." Please follow these directions carefully.
  If no specific instruction is provided, simply print the page and cut away the header, footer, and element number before using it in the escape room.

By following these steps, you will ensure the materials are prepared correctly, and the gameplay remains fully immersive for participants.

Psychological Analysis:
Unanswered Questions Remain in Apartment Death

BY DR. KAREN MITCHELL, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist

In the days since a man was found dead in his apartment earlier this week, what initially appeared to be a tragic yet straightforward case has become a matter of public speculation. Although authorities maintain that there is no evidence of foul play, several residents question whether the official explanation fully resolves the many lingering uncertainties.

Initial explanations of the recent apartment death have left room to the community feeling a lack of closure.

A LACK OF CLOSURE

Dr. Karen Mitchell
Clinical Psychologist

Initial explanations often presented with incongruent information, and commitment to leave equipment unresolved.

Perceived discrepancies, such as hearing loud arguments, lead to dissonance, anxiety, and mistrust. Addressing all questions is essential.

Cognitive Dissonance and Community Response
When presented information is inconsistent and complex, questions between official narratives and reported experiences arise.

INVESTIGATIVE STEPS NEEDED FOR RESOLUTION

1. Comprehensive Review of Witness Statements:
Ensure all witness reports are thoroughly reviewed and compared for consistency, including reports of raised voices at the time of the incident.

2. Transparent Forensic Reanalysis:
Allow independent forensic experts to reexamine any physical evidence to ensure a thorough and unbiased assessment.

Psychologically, it is crucial to address the unanswered questions surrounding this case with a level of thoroughness that restores public confidence. Anything less than a transparent and conclusive resolution will likely leave a sense of unease that could persist indefinitely.

DOCUMENTARY REVIEW

Title: Inconvenient Silence
Director: Hannah Whitmore
Release Date: April 19, 2024

SUMMARY

The crime documentary "Inconvenient Silence" examines the unexplained death of a man found dead in his apartment under circumstances officially described as non-criminal. Through interviews, archival footage, and analysis of police documentation, the film questions whether key details were overlooked or dismissed too early.

KEY INTERVIEWS

Daniel Reyes
Neighbor / Witness
Recounted hearing raised voices and movement late at night. Expressed concern that his statement was shortened and removed from later summaries.

Inspector Mark Holloway
Senior Investigator / Ret.
Reviewed publicly available police reports and highlighted gaps between early conclusions and unresolved forensic questions.

Dr. Elaine Porter
Forensic Analyst
Provided expert commentary on the limitations of early forensic assessments and explained how preliminary conclusions can change with additional testing.

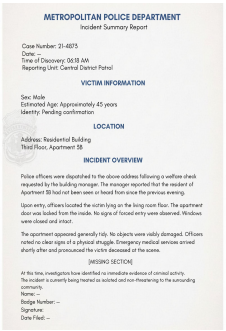

OVERALL IMPRESSION

"Inconvenient Silence" is a restrained but unsettling documentary that avoids sensationalism while raising legitimate questions about how and why this case was closed so quickly. The film does not accuse, but it clearly suggests that the official version may rely more on certainty than evidence.

IS IT WORTH WATCHING?

For viewers interested in investigative journalism and real-life mysteries, "Inconvenient Silence" offers a thoughtful look at how unanswered questions can fade when they are inconvenient. The documentary encourages viewers to consider whose voices are amplified — and whose are quietly left out.

Neighbors Question Official Version of Apartment Death

BY [AUTHOR NAME]
CITY, NAME

As police continue to investigate the death of a man found in his apartment earlier this week, multiple residents of the building question parts of the official explanation offered by authorities.

Officers responded to a call for a welfare check at approximately 6:15 a.m. after the apartment manager reported not hearing from the resident since the previous evening.

Several neighbors reported hearing raised voices and movement late at night, around the time of the incident. One resident stated, "I heard voices and what sounded like an argument coming from his apartment just after midnight," while another described hearing footsteps in the hallway.

According to police officials, there were no signs of forced entry into the apartment, and investigators described finding the unit in an undisturbed condition. The victim, whose identity has not been released, was pronounced dead at the scene by emergency responders and not rising to the level of an emergency.

In response, a police spokesperson reiterated that the investigation is ongoing and cautioned against jumping to conclusions until all information is gathered and verified.

Neighbors Question Official Version of Apartment Death

BY [AUTHOR NAME]
CITY NAME

As police continue to investigate the death of a man found in his apartment earlier this week, multiple residents of the building question parts of the official explanation offered by authorities.

Officers responded to a call for a welfare check at approximately 6:15 a.m. after the apartment manager reported not hearing from the resident since the previous evening.

Several neighbors reported hearing raised voices and movement late at night, around the time of the incident. One resident stated, “I heard voices and what sounded like an argument coming from his apartment just after midnight,” while another described hearing footsteps in the hallway.

According to police officials, there were no signs of forced entry into the apartment, and investigators described finding the unit in an undisturbed condition. The victim, whose identity has not been released, was pronounced dead at the scene by emergency responders and not rising to the level of an emergency.

In response, a police spokesperson reiterated that the investigation is ongoing and cautioned against jumping to conclusions until all information is gathered and verified.

“The case was closed before all relevant questions were explored.”

“There is evidence of interaction with another person, but not enough investigation to understand its significance.”

“Someone was there, so the police must be hiding a crime.”

“Because witnesses heard voices, the death must be suspicious.”

“The police reports are false, so everything in them is unreliable.”

“The documentary proves that the police intentionally covered up a murder.”

“If this happened to your family member, you would never accept this explanation.”

“Authorities always protect themselves, never the truth.”

“Different interpretations depend more on how information is framed than on the information itself.”
